Designated Groups
Groups as identified by the Employment Equity Act as facing barriers to inclusion and participation in the workforce. The groups are women in under-represented occupations, Aboriginal/Indigenous peoples, persons with disabilities, members of racially-visible groups and such other groups as may be included in the definition of "designated groups" in the Employment Equity Act, Statutes of Canada 1995, c. 46.

Employment Equity
Involves a systematic effort to achieve fairness in employment. It is achieved when no person is denied employment opportunities or benefits for reasons unrelated to their abilities. Employment equity, as specified by the federal government, seeks to eliminate barriers to employment for the designated groups.

Equity
Is a process that calls for the acknowledgement of systemic power and privilege and the (re)distribution of resources to enhance access, experience and outcomes for members of equity-seeking groups. Equity compels the college to create spaces that value, celebrate, amplify and accommodate individual differences through the removal of systemic barriers to employment and education.

Equity-Seeking Groups
Includes the four Designated Groups in addition to groups whose members experience violence, harassment, discrimination, exclusion, stigmatization, and prejudice based on any other grounds identified in the Nova Scotia Human Rights Act.

Fairness
An accessible, consistent and transparent process that is impartial, based upon the principles of merit and equity.

Federal Contractors Program (FCP)
A program that requires provincial organizations with 100 or more employees and that receive $200,000 in federal contracts commit to implementing Employment Equity with regard to four designated groups: Aboriginal/Indigenous peoples, persons with disabilities, members of racially-visible groups and women in under-represented occupations.

Gender Identity
A person’s internal sense of being a man, woman, both, neither, or somewhere in between. Gender identity refers to the internal experience of a person that cannot be determined by others. A person’s gender identity is different from their sexual orientation.

Gender Expression
How people present their own sense of gender to society. Your gender is what you know yourself to be. Your gender expression is how you present your gender to the world and how your gender is understood by the world such as through clothing/dress, makeup, voice, mannerisms and personal habits.

Inclusion
Is defined as the process of improving the terms of participation in society, particularly for individuals or groups of individuals who are disadvantaged or under-represented, through enhancing opportunities, access to resources, voice and respect for rights. This creates a sense... of belonging, promotes trust, fights exclusion and marginalization and offers the opportunity of upward mobility and results in increased social cohesion in society.

MEMBERS OF RACIALLY-VISIBLE GROUPS
